Don't Miss Out...
A Training & Education Seminar!

Local Education and Networking

Northeast Region—Maryland/Washington DC Chapter

Co-Chair: Jim Fields, Law Offices of Robert A. Stutman, P.C., Fort Washington, PA

Session One: Larry Morgan, Electrical Engineer and Dennis Hurley, Mechanical Engineer, Trident Engineering Associates, Inc.

“Subrogation Opportunities Resulting From Failures of Home Appliances”

The presentation will involve subrogation opportunities which arise due to the malfunction of consumer appliances, such as clothes dryers, dishwashers, refrigerators, stoves, hot water heaters, and the like. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hurley will provide an overview of inspection procedures they utilize to maximize the potential for recoveries, and will discuss the electrical and mechanical aspects of product failures and defects.

Session Two: Steven Gerber, Esquire, Cozen O'Connor

“The Early Bird Gets the...Money!”

This presentation will provide an engaging review of all of the ingredients necessary to successfully build a property subrogation case from the loss scene up to trial. Mr. Gerber will cover loss investigations and expert retention, evidence preservation, legal evaluation, damages proofs, and expert discovery, including Daubert issues and other considerations.

Session Three: William Daley, Mechanical Engineer, CED Investigative Technologies, Inc.

“Warnings and Subrogation—An Engineering Expert’s Perspective”

This presentation will outline the role that warnings play and present with respect to subrogation opportunities. Mr. Daley and his company have investigated and reconstructed numerous accidents and failures over the last several years. He will discuss the trends and factors which are common in successful subrogation litigation based upon a failure to warn theory. This will include references to industry codes and standards which address warnings.
