

In Celebration of NASP's 10 Year Anniversary, 2008 is Declared The Year of Subrogation!

Minneapolis, MN - Never before has there been a year packed so full with subrogation educational offerings and networking to increase the stature and knowledge of those working in the subrogation industry! The National Association of Subrogation Professionals (NASP), the world's largest insurance subrogation association and leader in subrogation education, is asking everyone to endorse the concept of celebrating the Year of Subrogation by initiating a company-wide awareness of subrogation in 2008.

Declare 2008 the Year of Subrogation within your company - challenge your subrogation and non-subrogation colleagues to learn more about the benefits of subrogation to the industry, to the insured and to society.

Throughout 2008, there will be many exciting Year of Subrogation activities:

Chapter meetings

Nine (9) regions, and chapters within those regions, across the U.S., Canada and the UK, are holding meetings to bring excellent educational opportunities to you and give you the opportunity to learn about subrogation issues specific to the state, region or country where you work. These meetings also allow you to network with other subrogation professionals in your area.

Subrogation Litigation Skills Conference

This educational event is designed to provide training to enhance the litigation abilities of subrogation attorneys, in-house counsel and insurance professionals involved in the litigation process. The 2008 Litigation Skills Conference will be held March 27-28th at The Mirage, Las Vegas, NV.

Annual Educational Conference

This year's conference being held November 2-5, 2008 at the Westin Diplomat Resort & Spa, Hollywood, Florida will offer 75+ educational sessions and more than 120 speakers in Auto, Property, Workers' Compensation, Management, Health and General tracks. More than 1,500 subrogation professionals are expected to attend and celebrate NASP's 10th Anniversary – Subro Goes Hollywood, and the Year of Subrogation.

NASP has expanded its educational offerings by adding courses such as Subro College™ and the Certified Subrogation Recovery Professional (CSR)® designation exam prep, which are available for in-house seminars and local Chapter meetings. Additionally, NASP's website has been enriched with resources such as the Recovery Specialist Guidebook and Subro Law Corner, providing compelling and novel coverage of the important issues encountered each and every day in subrogation.

Those already in subrogation will relish all of these great programs and events, but an important aim in the Year of Subrogation is to bring new focus to the subrogation industry. The Year of Subrogation is just the beginning and a perfect springboard... an ideal call to action! Become a subrogation ambassador – celebrate the Year of Subrogation, and let NASP help you enhance your company's subrogation recovery results!
